TRUMAN ACTION ON JOBS SEEN

Congress Expects President To Ask Speed-up on Full Employment Bill.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Congress got ready today for a White House prod for action on the stalled full employment bill.

The head of the house committee where the bill has been lodged since it passed the senate, Carter Manasco of Alabama, had a summons to see President Truman.

Legislators felt the President intends to "go to bat" for the measure. Manasco and his committee haven't viewed the idea with much favor so far.

But it's a key part of the President's reconversion program. It would set a policy; federal work projects when private employment fails to supply jobs for all willing to work.

A quick look under capitol dome also showed:

Armed Forces—Out of the argument over merging Army and Navy it seems plain, at least, an Air Force separate from both is on the way.

Four members of the senate military committee feel sure of it. They're Senators Edwin Johnson of Colorado, Lister Hill of Alabama and Joseph O'Mahoney, all Democrats, and Republican Warren Austin of Vermont.

They say even if the merger idea fails congress will give airpower equal status with land and sea forces. All three branches under the merger would be under a single government department Air would be distinct from Army and Navy.

Housing—The OPA boss, Chester Bowles, wants congress to get some agency to fix a sale price on every home. Else the real estate boom will ride merrily up an inflation spiral, he's warned congress.

But Republican Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska disputes the Bowles plan. Bowles wants the government to say. The next time a house is sold that's its top price for the future. Wherry said this wouldn't work, that people would pay extra on the side.

Navy Club Annual Tag Sale Set for Friday and Saturday

In accordance with a proclamation issued by Mayor Harry L. Dowler, the Marion Navy club has announced that the annual Anchor and Tag sale, honoring Navy Day, will be held tomorrow and Saturday.

The proceeds of this sale, sponsored by the Marion Navy club and Navy Club Auxiliary, will be used for the rehabilitation and relief of returning naval veterans and their families.

In his proclamation, Mayor Dowler said, "Let us as American citizens cheerfully respond to this worthy cause and by so doing help make life a little brighter for returned Navy veterans."

The committee in charge of the sale is headed by Mrs. Ruth Butterworth, commandant of the Navy club auxiliary, and Omar Goodrich of the Navy club.

Other business enacted at the weekly luncheon meeting at the Y. M. C. A. included a vote to discontinue night meetings on the fourth Wednesday of the month, making all meetings luncheon sessions except special holiday parties.

OPA Cuts Butter to 8 Points As Army Releases Huge Supply

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—The OPA announced today that ration values on butter, margarine, lard, shortening and oils would be cut four points a pound next Sunday.

For all of these products the new value, effective through Dec. 1, will be eight points a pound.

Current point costs will be maintained during the new period for all prime cuts of beef, veal and lamb and for lean cuts of pork. Lower grades of beef, veal, and lamb will continue ration free.

The point reductions for butter, margarine and other fats and oils are possible because of a much improved supply situation, said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles.

There will be about 12 per cent more butter in November than during this month, chiefly because of release of 80,000,000 pounds by the Army, Bowles said. Lard supplies are expected to be up about 39 per cent from heavier marketing of hogs.

Over-all meat supplies ... month will be about ... one per cent less than in ... and "therefore ... must the end of rationing ... chief said.

The domestic supply of beef, veal and lamb will be down because of foreign requirements, said an Agriculture Department official

FOREIGN POLICY STAND OF U. S. HIT BY LANDON

Sees Threat in Russia, Offers 6-Point Plan of Action for United States.

By The Associated Press

LAWRENCE, Kas., Oct. 25—Criticizing the administration's foreign policy, Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential nominee, said today that if Russia refuses the "proffered hand of the peace-seeking nations, we must not shrink from the tragic fact that a new aggressor is on the prowl."

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Kiwanis club, Landon outlined a six-point program which he suggested as the U. S. foundation for world security.

"You can't build an international organization for collective security on the quicksilver of vindictive, ruinous and imperialistic settlements that lack any constructive ideas," he said.

Proposed Program

The former Kansas governor's proposed program:

1. Make the U. S. a sound financial mooring post "for the rest of the world to tie to by reversing our present unsound fiscal policies of borrowing and spending unlimited."

2. Reverse the German policies for which the U. S. largely is responsible. Put Germany on an economic, self-sustaining basis.

3. All nations abandon extra-territorial practices. "The U. S. should stand in the Far East as advocating in substance what we did in the Philippines where we set the model for colonial treatment and development of self-governing communities."

4. Insist on "honest and intelligent, nationwide," application of the principles of the Atlantic charter before we make any gifts. Follow for the most part Woodrow Wilson's 14 principles for peace.

5. Seriously and thoroughly consider internationalization of the atomic bomb and of the few hitherto key spots in the world providing all world nations have shown a genuine willingness to band together and work together for peace.

6. If Russia refuses the "proffered hand of the peace-seeking nations, we must not shrink from the tragic fact that a new aggressor is on the prowl."

Means More Friction

"Why discuss the policy of the appeasement or non-appeasement of Russia?" Landon asked. "Either, on the course we have been pursuing, simply means more friction.

"In addition to the piddling policy of making loans, we are to have the greatest Navy, the greatest Army, the newest, greatest weapon for a while. All history proves the futility of that policy.

"We are seizing strategic bases in a speak easy sort of way and then wonder why the world should look at us with cynicism and suspicion.

"The race between Russia and the United States to obtain strategic bases is fooling no one but the American people—who are still being doped with soothing syrup that differences between ourselves and Russia is one of language and inexperience in foreign affairs."

Criticizing treatment of Germany, Landon said, "We will not stabilize, the world as long as we push the basic error of the ghastly insane Morgenthau plan in the treatment of Germany. No nation has ever been taught democracy with a bayonet."

Surrender Message At Corregidor Broadcast As Japs Near "Tunnel"

Gen. Wainwright in his "This Is My Story" today reveals the story of one of the most humiliating days in American history —May 6, 1942—when he was forced to make a surrender offer.

* * *

BY GENERAL JONATHAN M. WAINWRIGHT

(Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc., Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Installment No. 19

THE MOMENT I was told by Major Gen. George F. Moore that the Japs were at long last landing on Corregidor I went directly to his command post in the Tunnel and for the rest of that dreadful night of May 5-6, 1942, I alternated between that post and the command post of Lt. Col. Beecher, U.S.M.C., just inside the eastern antrance to the Tunnel. Col. Beecher was in command of the eastern sector of the beach defense

The enemy hit the extreme northeast end of polly-wog- shaped Corregidor, down near the end of the island's tail.

The first wave of Japs came in landing boats and armed motor-boats. They were heavily engaged by our men and were being mauled back to the shoreline when the second Jap wave struck the beaches with tanks and artillery.

Corregidor's "Tail" Severed

Thus strengthened, the enemy quickly pushed past the beaches' light and heavy-gunless defenders and cut Corregidor's tail in two. Then, on a solid front, the Japs turned and began their march westward toward Malinta Tunnel, hub of our last resistance.

Gen. Moore stripped some of our remaining heavy batteries of their personnel to bolster a defensive infantry line we hastily strung across Corregidor between Malinta Hill and the approaching Japs. It was most difficult to get our men into their positions, for Jap batteries on Bataan and Cavite were protecting the Jap landings, by plastering the entire unoccupied section of The Rock with the heaviest kind of bombardment.

But despite this hellish fire our heroic harbor defense troops and Marines made the advancing Japs pay for every foot they gained.

Roosevelt's Final Message

At 4 a. m on May 6, with the Japs slowly approaching Denver Hill, a rise that girdles the island between their landing point and Malinta Tunnel, I received a final message from President Roosevelt. Official message blanks were so completely exhausted that the operator decoded the message on rough ruled paper.

JAPS ISOLATED FROM WORLD BY ALLIES' ACTION

Will Reveal All Enemy Secrets; Russia Seeks Hand in Occupation Policy.

By The Associated Press

TOKYO, Oct. 25—General MacArthur today ordered Japan to sever relations with all foreign governments and to turn over its diplomatic properties and papers throughout the world to the Allied powers.

The order, issued "by direction of the Allied powers," told the Japanese government to recall "immediately" its diplomatic and consular representatives home from neutral countries.

Purpose of the order, other than the apparent one of revealing to the Allies all Japan's diplomatic and consular secrets, was not disclosed. It came to MacArthur from the joint chiefs of staff at Washington.

(Official explanation for the drastic order was not immediately available from Washington sources.)

Criticism From Russia

The directive followed criticisms from Moscow to the effect that with the demobilization of Japan's armed forces, the occupation policies in the conquered nation should be directed by a four-power control commission instead of by MacArthur.

Domei news agency reported that Prince Fumimaro Konoye, royal career statesman and youngest of Japan's senior statesmen, would renounce all titles and court privileges so he could take part in politics as a private citizen.

Konoye was prevailed upon by Marquis Kichi Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal, to delay his action until work on revision of the constitution is finished, Domei said.

The action might indicate Konoye has determined to accept General MacArthur's suggestion, which was reported last Sunday, that the three-time premier head the liberal political movement in Japan.

To Accept Responsibility

The agency, quoting what it termed reliable sources, said Konoye, with relinquishment of his title, would accept full responsibility for his part in Japan's war period.

Conferences with Japanese Christian leaders will be sought by a delegation of American Protestant churchmen who have arrived in Tokyo on a goodwill mission.

The delegation included Dr. Walter W. Van Kirk, New York, executive secretary, Department of International Justice and Good Will of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, who explained:

"We were sent to Japan by the churches of our country, not by the government. It is to the churches we shall report following our return to the United States."

Domei today quoted Sankuro Ogamowara, Japan's minister of commerce and industry, as saying the government plans to introduce an anti-trust bill, comparable to the Clayton act in the United States, at the next session of the diet.

MOULTON STRIKES AT "GET-RICH" SCHEMES

Galion Man Pledges Protection for Ohio Investors.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—Ohioans won't get hooked in any "get-rich-quick schemes" if the commerce department can help it, declares Robert L. Moulton of Galion, the new state director.

Moulton, who began his new duties yesterday, explained the department's divisions had jurisdiction over fields in which "get-rich-quick schemes" could thrive, such as selling "pieces of the Atlantic ocean" as high and dry building lots, or offering blue-sky securities.

He promised that all Ohio laws pertaining to these matters would be enforced strictly.

Moulton succeeds James W. Huffman whom Gov. Lausche appointed to fill Harold H. Burton's unexpired term in the U. S. senate.

Need Mediation Badly in Oriental 'Freedom' Revolts

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

It is a pity the United Nations security organization isn't yet functioning, for it might prevent a catastrophe by friendly intervention in the Javanese rebellion against Dutch rule and the similar revolt against France in neighboring French Indo-China.

Perhaps there still is time, if the organization (which came into formal existence yesterday with the ratification of its charter) gets into action soon. That is, there may be time if meanwhile some disinterested mediator can persuade the combatants to declare a truce and maintain the status quo until the United Nations can get to work.

G. Mackenzie

Certainly there is plenty of ground for intervention, since these upheavals already are inflaming other parts of the Orient and thus are endangering general peace. They can't be considered as local "family affairs."

Britain's General Sir Philip Christison, commander of the Allied occupation forces in Java, already has put out feelers with the idea of effecting a compromise between the Dutch and the Javanese Nationalists. His position must be difficult, however, because President Soekarno of the so-called "Indonesian Republic" has charged that the British are "supporting and buttressing the Dutch."

Asks Intervention

However, Soekarno is quoted as saying that "it may assist a peaceful settlement if the United States of America is willing to intervene—the more if Russia and China also took part in this settlement of the Indonesian problem." Well, the United States government has said that it is ready to mediate if asked to do so. We are waiting for the invitation.

More than incidentally, Secretary of State Byrnes yesterday also made it emphatically clear during a press conference that Washington objects to the use of lend-lease arms for political purposes as they have been employed by British and Dutch forces in the Far East. Washington requested the British and Dutch to remove American emblems from lend-lease equipment used against the insurgents, and this brought prompt word from a foreign office spokesman in London that the British commander in Java had been instructed to comply.

The American attitude was further put gently clarified last week when Washington sharply reminded the powers concerned in the oriental disturbances that they should prepare their peoples for self-government. That certainly is the call of the times, but one wonders how long it will take the world to learn it.

Movies' Lew Ayres, Once Shunned, Gets Applause at Dock

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25 — Sgt. Lew Ayres, former film star shunned by the public when he refused to bear arms as a conscientious objector, is back in his homeland today—a soldier praised by his buddies as "a good guy and a good G I."

Yellowed from atabrine and looking older than his 36 years, Ayres said he was uncertain about his future.

Typical of the change in public feeling toward Ayres was his reception here yesterday when he walked down the gangplank of the transport Cape Meares after 22 months of service in the southwest Pacific.

A friendly and curious crowd applauded him more loudly than it did the other 1,756 Army men who debarked.

Ayres said he was not as ready to enter the ministry as reports from overseas had indicated.

He plans to continue his pacifist work. "I want to do something to teach men to understand one another, to love each other as neighbors."

UNITED NATIONS SET AS RUSSIA SIGNS UP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 — The United Nations is a going concern —on paper.

Conceived at San Francisco by representatives of half a hundred nations "determined to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war," the organization came into formal being at 4:45 p. m. (EST) yesterday.

A few pen scratches on diplomatic parchment by Secretary of State Byrnes made the San Francisco charter "a part of the law of nations."

Byrnes subsequently said maintenance of peace "depends not on any document, but what is in the minds and hearts of men."

OHIO WOMAN FOUND MURDERED IN AUTO

An hour later the car was found on a rural road off state route 611.

Four-Mill Levy Renewal A "Must" for City Schools

Failure To Pass in November Election Would Cut 10 Weeks Off School Year.

By W. T. BUCHANAN

Renewal of a four-mill special levy to provide operating funds for the Marion public schools will come before the voters of the city school district at the election Nov. 6.

School officials today stressed the importance of voters acquainting themselves with the necessity for renewing the levy.

While the levy renewal will appear on the same ballot with other special issues included in the Jobs and Progress program, the levy has no connection with this program, school officials pointed out.

Renewal of the levy will not mean any additional taxes. Since 1823 Marion residents have provided additional operating funds for the city schools through special levies. The first levy voted was for three mills. Two years ago an additional one mill was voted for a two-year period. Both the three-mill and one-mill levies expire this year and have been combined this year for renewal.

The original three mill levy has been renewed each five years since it was first voted 20 years ago and the renewal to be voted on Nov. 6 is set up to run for another five-year period.

Why Levy Must Pass

School officials pointed out today that should the levy fail it cannot be brought up again for vote until November, 1946.

The serious plight in which the school system would be put, should the levy be defeated, is realized with it is understood that without the levy the schools would be without funds to operate the last 10 weeks of the year.

The levy provides the schools with $165,928.84 a year, or 28 per cent of the total estimated operating cost of $586,755.92 for 1946. The levy funds are equivalent to operating costs for 10 weeks.

Importance of the levy is further emphasized in a table prepared by school officials showing the length of time the schools are operated on the various sources of income.

The table follows:

State funds (foundation program)	15 weeks
Local taxes (not voted)	8 weeks
Miscellaneous receipts	3 weeks
Four Mill Levy	10 weeks
Total	36 weeks

Funds from the levy are used exclusively for operating expenses including salaries of teachers, administrative employes, janitors, free text books, coal, telephone electricity, water, building maintenance and repair, educational supplies, insurance and other miscellaneous items.

Where Money Goes

Officials of the schools point out that of every dollar spent for operation, 83 cents goes directly into salaries of school employes and the remaining 17 cents is for books, fuel, utilities and other expenses.

As voters go to the polls a week from next Tuesday they are asked by school authorities to remember these pertinent facts about the levy:

1—This proposal is to renew present levies.

2—This is not a new levy.

3—Tax rates will not be increased by voting for the levy.

4—The proposed renewal is for a period of five years.

5—Money raised from the levy will be used to pay current operating costs only. It will not be used for construction of buildings.

HIGH-QUALITY JADE IS FOUND IN ALASKA

By International News Service

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Alaska, once believed an arctic wasteland, has displayed another facet in its sparkling repertoire of valuable assets.

Vast quantities of high-quality jade have been reported by James Robbins, who operates asbestos mines in the Candle district in northwestern Alaska. He said experts stated the jade was of much greater brilliance and toughness than that found in Mexico.

With jade deposits in China being exhausted rapidly, a ready market was reported in the States, particularly among Chinese in San Francisco.

More than 900 pounds of the Alaskan jade recently has been flown into Fairbanks—one chunk alone weighing 386 pounds.

While the discovery of jade in Alaska is not new, it has not been mined on a great scale as preliminary findings were of inferior quality.

"Gay '90s" Program Presented by Grange

Mrs. Robert Briggs and Mrs. Robert Howald won awards in a hat judging contest which followed a "Gay '90s" program, presented Wednesday night by Bethlehem Grange members under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Hinklin in the hall near Waldo. The presentation included familiar period selections by the young people's chorus and novelty numbers by Miss Louise Bender and William Clunk. A duet, "When You Wore a Tulip and I Wore a Big Red Rose" was sung by Mrs. Briggs and R. D. Hinklin. The song "School Days" was enacted by Mrs. Ralph Issler and Walter Bender with accompaniment played by Miss Hazel Clunk.

"Try, Try Again," a poem from McGuffey's Reader, was read by Robert Howald and commented on by Samuel W. Almendinger, a former teacher of the school book.

The next meeting will be a Truth or Consequence program with refreshments to follow, in charge of Miss Esther Click, Allen Wargowsky and William Clunk.

U. S. Maps Mild Action Against Peron Regime

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Oct. 24—United States action against Juan Peron's Argentine dictatorship will continue to consist mostly of protests and "pin pricks," a survey of the situation made plain today.

Government officials concede gloomily that the Buenos Aires "strong man" apparently has come back stronger than ever, following his recent ouster as vice president.

But after studying courses of action which might be open to the U. S. and the 19 other American republics, these officials conclude that only the Argentine people can rid themselves of Peron's regime.

Suspect Arrested In Upper Sandusky Case

UPPER SANDUSKY, Oct. 25—"Robert E. Merrill," wanted here for passing forged checks, today had been arrested in Detroit, Mich., where he was identified as Robert B. McCoy, of Cambridge, O., an Army deserter since 1942.

McCoy alias Merrill visited Upper Sandusky last March, and, posing as an investigator for the Office of Price Administration, cashed checks at the Rose Bud and Midway restaurants and at the Hart Jewelry store before leaving town, officials said.

He is being returned to federal authorities in Toledo where the charge of desertion is expected to receive consideration prior to those held against him by police.

Get Better Cough Syrup By Mixing It at Home

Quick Relief. Big Saving. So Easy! No Cooking.

To get quick relief from coughs due to colds, you should make sure by mixing your own cough syrup at home. It's no trouble at all, and you know it's pure and good. It needs no cooking, and it's so easy to make that a child could do it.

From your druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add enough plain syrup to fill up the pint. To make syrup, stir two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or honey, if desired. The full pint thus made should last a family a long time, and gives you about four times as much cough medicine for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick results, you've never seen its superior. It seems to take hold instantly, loosening the phlegm, soothing the irritated membranes, and helping to clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for quick action on throat and bronchial irritations. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Hirohito's Royal Fish Face Sad Future As Japs Get Hungrier

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

TOKYO, Oct. 25—Leaves from a correspondent's notebook:

Postwar shortages are affecting the diet of the Japanese people. They also are affecting the daily menu of the emperor's famous carp.

These illustrious fish swim in the royal moat at one of Tokyo's busiest intersections. They are large and fat and grow to a length of almost two feet. They vary in color from dark gray to light gold and are very popular with the Japanese people.

Hal Boyle

They are extremely tame and swim readily up to the edge of the moat to accept tidbits of bread and potato tossed to them by Hirohito's faithful followers.

Recently one soldier passing by peeled off a stick of gum and tossed it to a carp. It was quickly snapped up. Now, several times a day, GI's drop by to watch the emperor's carp chew American gum.

"If only," sighed one soldier, "we had some bubble gum! That would really be worth seeing."

Odds are even that the imperial carp won't survive the winter. It would be an easy matter to toss a baited hook a few feet down into the moat and catch them. Already many Japanese are giving them hungry looks.

"Commandos" Honored

The "Headquarters Commandos" came into their own at last.

Army officers who went through the war without seeing the armed enemy or firing a shot, lined up meekly in the lobby of the Dai-Ichi hotel and one by one came forward to receive a Japanese samurai sword, after signing a receipt.

The swords were shiny new, just off the Nip assembly line, and —like the men who got them as souvenirs—they had never seen battle.

The weapons were part of surrendered Japanese stores and were distributed to MacArthur's headquarters officers purely on the basis of rank. These armchair leaders took out their swords and swung them like eager, happy children. At last they had something to take home from the war and impress their neighbors.

The sign announcing distribution of the swords said that lieutenant colonels and full colonels also would be issued Japanese binoculars. It concluded:

"No arrangement yet for women personnel."

It looks like the Wacs and Nurses will have to indulge in guerrilla warfare and capture their own souvenir swords and binoculars to bring home.

Lesson in Finance

Tiring of shipboard life, one group of officers aboard a vessel tied up at a pier in Tokyo had an adventure in Japanese finance while establishing a club for themselves ashore.

They found an abandoned, rat-chewed building only a few score yards from their ship and obtained permission from the Japanese owner to use it as a club. They cleaned it out, decorated it, put in electric wiring and water pipes. Soon they had a cozy club.

No sooner were they comfortably set up, however, than their little landlord arrived with his rent bill. With many bows and toothy smiles he presented it:

"Five days rent—1400 yen."

That was almost $100—an exorbitant figure.

"We fixed up another bill to the landlord," said Lieut. Commander Russell Knight, Palos Verdes, Calif., "charging him 9,000 yen—that's $600—for labor and materials used in improving his building.

"We have not heard from him since."

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

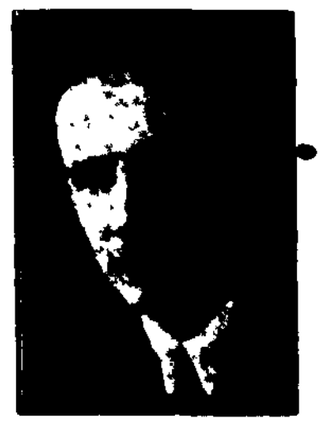
ROBERT W. SOLINGER, President, Junior Chamber of Commerce, says, "In our opinion the "Jobs and Progress" program is the right step forward for the betterment of Marion now and in the future. We endorse the program 100% and trust we may have the largest vote ever given a Marion Bond Issue. None was ever needed more than this."

R. T. MASON, President, Kiwanis Club says: "The passing of these levies is vital to Marion—to provide post war jobs—to allow Marion to compete favorably with other cities for new factories—to encourage the more than 5500 men and women from Marion County to return to their home community. If we are to progress, all 5 Issues must carry November 6th.

MR. EDWIN B. SPOHN, President, Marion County Bar Association, says: "Every citizen who has the welfare of this community at heart certainly will vote FOR the $3,277,950 Bond Issues, for the community welfare is definitely bound up with "Jobs and Progress" If we are to go forward we cannot ignore the needs of schools, sewers, swimming pools, municipal airport and City hall."



E. G. SIEFERT, President of the Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A., says: "Being primarily concerned with the social and character development of youth, we fully recognize the benefits which will come to Marion when these five proposals materialize. We urge that Marion's future youth be given those opportunities which so many have been denied. Let's vote FOR all 5 and start Marion on her way toward becoming the city we have dreamed about."

J. J. STAFFORD, President of The Home Federal Savings and Loan Company, says: "That these Bond Issues provide jobs is but one of the arguments for their passage. They stand for physical improvement of our City, educational opportunities and the welfare of all our citizens. I urge that we vote "FOR" all 5 issues, and work actively for their passage."

J. W. WIANT, President, Rotary Club, says: "Being interested in the progress of the City and the future welfare of its citizens, and being satisfied that the objects of the Marion Civic Planning Group for "Jobs and Progress" will best promote this, we, of the Rotary Club, enthusiastically endorse and approve the "Jobs and Progress" program. We recommend to the citizens of Marion that they support all 5 Issues."

H. A. KRIGBAUM, President, Marion Chamber of Commerce, says "Jobs and Progress" is an excellent descriptive slogan for this bond campaign. A vote "FOR" all of the bond issues will provide immediate work at a time when many industries are reconverting to civilian production and Marion needs the improvements the bonds call for."

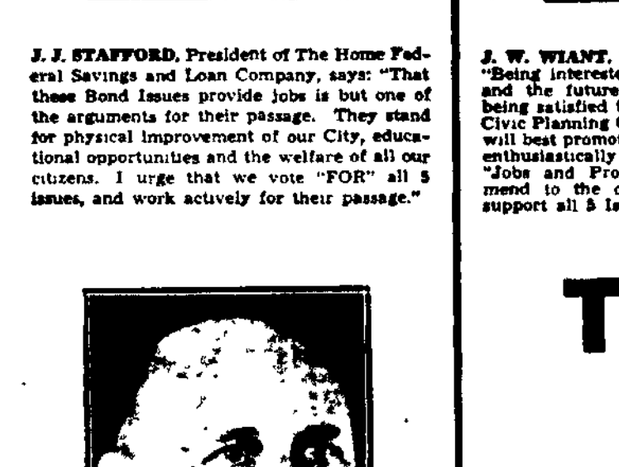
ROBERT E. WHITE, President of the National City Bank of Marion, says: "No matter how well we build, time has a way of depreciating values to the point that replacements and repair are necessary. Our schools and sewers have certainly passed that point. As a progressive community it is necessary that each of us vote FOR all 5 Bond Issues in order to save the money previously invested and at the same time provide those facilities which will enable us to stand along side the progressive cities of Ohio."

E. J. SCHOENLAUB, Chairman of the Marion County War Finance Committee, says: "It seems to me we've been talking for too many years about what Marion needs without doing something to get the things we want. Maybe this is a big program. Maybe you'd like to change some little part of it. But remember that this group of projects has already been given the approval of more Marion individuals, groups and organizations of all kind than any other program in Marion's history. Now, let's don't muff the ball when we've got a chance to score a touchdown for Marion. Let's get together and put it over. I'm for it 100 per cent."

These Marion CIVIC LEADERS Urge You to

JOHN E. PEACOCK, President of the Marion Lion's Club, says: "No citizen of this community who has the interests of his city at heart and believes in a square deal for the returning service men, can refuse to vote FOR the $3,277,950 bond program. I shall vote for every one of the 5 Issues on the ballot, and I urge all to do the same. A vote FOR the bonds is a vote FOR "Jobs and Progress". Our returning servicemen will need those jobs."

Vote "FOR" all 5 Bond Issues Nov. 6th!



Civic leaders and public-spirited men and women in all walks of life are joining this great campaign to make post-war jobs in Marion! Remember—these are no leaf [illegible] but long-term jobs to give us all better schools, swimming pools, a modern airport [illegible] ing, and adequate sewers. Sweet Mystery of Life," "Goodbye," "The Lord's Prayer," and Mr. Decker's group included "Rhapsody in Blue," and "Warsaw Concerto." Both responded with encores.

New Television Tube Sees in the Dark

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct 25—A new television camera tube that sees even in the dark under certain conditions, can take scenes in the moonlight or with the aid only of a match or a candle flame, was set up for public demonstration today.

The product of RCA engineers and a development considerably advanced in wartime where it had an important but unrevealed application the device is known as an "image orthicon." Its sensitivity is declared to have been advanced to the point where it nearly equals the seeing ability of the human eye.

Its most important use is expected to come in remote pickups.

Today's program material made up of both studio and remote pickups as provided by NBC which operates television station WNBT called for the taking of scenes in the dark with infra-red rays which the Human eye cannot see.

MARION OFFICER WINS BRONZE STARS IN ARMY

Lt. Col. Donald G. Wetterauer on Way Back to U. S.

In a letter received recently from Lt. Col. Donald G. Wetterauer, with the Signal Corps, Army of United States, it was learned by his father, B. G. Wetterauer of Mt. Vernon avenue, that he has accumulated 10 more points by receiving two bronze stars. He also stated that he had set out on his homeward journey and expects to arrive in the States by the last of December.

The citation accompanying the medal he received, said in part, "for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services during the period Jan. 20, 1945, to Aug 14, 1945. The unturing efforts and superior ability of Lt. Col. Wetterauer made possible the organization and functioning of the communications school, heavy mortar training center, Nichi, Szechwan Province, China, and the complete training of all communications personnel for two heavy mortar regiments."

The other bronze star award, he learned about, he said, when on his way home, he arrived in Kunming, China. He has been engaged in instructing the Chinese during the past year.

Mother Here Talks To Son by Telephone Across Atlantic

A trans-Atlantic telephone call was completed last night between Mrs. Bertha Prior of 400 Davids street and her son, Pfc. Frank A. Prior, stationed in Germany. The call was made from London, England, where Prior had gone for a few days. He is stationed in Germany with a medical detachment of the 283rd Engineers of the Third Army.

Mrs. Priod said the connection was excellent and they could hear each other quite well. He told her that he was one of 24 who had flown from Germany to London on a troop transport for a brief furlough. Mrs. Prior was notified two days ago that the call had been placed. Prior has been overseas for 18 months.

REV. PIPER TO SPEAK AT YOUTH RALLY HERE

October Service To Be Held Saturday at Masonic Temple.

Evangelist Elmer D. Piper of Chattanooga, Tenn., will be the principal speaker at the next Youth for Christ rally, which is to be held in the Masonic temple, corner of Church and Main streets, Saturday at 8 p. m. Besides bringing the message of the evening he will also give two or three vocal numbers. Until recently Rev. Piper was the pastor of a church with a membership of 800, but resigned to devote full time in the evangelistic field.

Marion is one of perhaps a thousand cities and towns in the nation that sponsor such movements in the interest of young people.

Youth for Christ rallies in Marion are held on the last Saturday of the month in the Masonic temple. More than 200 people were in attendance at the rally in September. All young people of different groups and organizations are invited. Congregational singing and musical features are some of the highlights of the meeting. Part of the service, beginning at 8:30, is broadcast over Station WMRN, with audience participation.

Sherman Birthplace To Become Memorial

By The Associated Press

LANCASTER, O., Oct. 24—A two-story brick building, the birthplace of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman, will become a memorial to the famed Civil war general.

City council voted last night to purchase the house from the estate of Ed Schleiger, who lived there until his death, a year ago, and turn it into a memorial.

By The Associated Press

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Oct. 25—The Ohio Reclamation association an organization of mine operators, has invited Gov. Lausche to inspect their eight-year efforts to reclaim Ohio's strip mine area.

In a letter to the governor, Alan R. Davidson, president of the association, asked the governor to visit strip mine areas "to see where 3,500,000 trees have been planted x x x and where 2,303,-000 trees are to be planted next spring. We would like to show you cattle grazing on strip mine banks producing dairy products and beef for x x x Ohio citizens."

Davidson wrote the association wants "to know just what it is that you want the legislature to make us do, that we are not doing, in reclaiming stripped-over areas."

Questions and Answers Listed on U. S. Surplus Property Sales

By The Associated Press

This is the second installment of material prepared for veterans by the Surplus Property Administration and distributed by The Associated Press.

Some questions and answers about purchases of surplus property by veterans:

Q. Who is entitled to veteran's preference in the purchase of surplus property?

A. Any person who served in the active military or naval service of the United States on or after Sept. 16, 1940, and prior to the termination of World War II and who has been discharged or released under honorable conditions. Persons on terminal leave or final furlough and those whose status has been changed from "active" to "inactive" status are classified as "released."

Q. Do length of service, service overseas, combat action, wounds and decorations have any bearing on a veteran's preferential standing?

A. No. Provisions in the Surplus Property Act for a preference for veterans are in no sense in the nature of a reward or "bonus." The declared intention of congress was to bolster the national economy by returning to, or starting out in peacetime pursuits, persons kept from civilian jobs or business through the demands of war.

Q. Are veterans of World War I entitled to preferential treatment?

A. No.

Q. Just what preference is extended to the veteran?

A. Subject to the prior rights of government agencies and state and local governments to acquire it, he will be given a preference to purchase surplus property for use in his own small business, agricultural or professional enterprise. He may also buy, within reasonable limits, one initial stock of property for resale in connection with a business established or to be established by him.

Where To Go

Q. Who actually sells surplus property to the veteran?

A. He may buy from a disposal agency or may request the Smaller War Plant Corp. (SWPC) to act as his agent.

Q. What is a disposal agency?

A. The government agency which actually sells the surplus property. The Reconstruction Finance Corp., for example, sells such consumer goods as autos and clothing, as well as industrial plants and heavy "producer" goods.

Q. Must a veteran have had previous experience in a line in which he seeks to establish himself?

A. No.

Q. How much capital is a veteran required to possess?

A. This depends on what he wants to buy. In proper cases he may arrange credit with SWPC or the agency which sells him his property.

Q. Will the government finance him if he has no money?

A. No. But surplus property may be offered for sale on credit to the veteran.

Q. What is meant by "own" enterprise?

A. One of which more than 50 per cent of the invested capital is a veteran's or where 50 per cent of the income goes to a veteran or veterans. A veteran is deemed to have his "own" enterprise when he is engaged by others as an employe or agent and is required by his employment to have his own tools or equipment. For example, a salesman might be required to own an auto. Such a veteran may buy surplus property required in his employment.

"Small" Is Defined

Q. What is meant by "small business"?

A. Any commercial or industrial enterprise, or group of enterprises under one ownership and control, which does not at the date of purchase of surplus property have more than 500 employees. Also a larger enterprise which by reason of its relative smallness in relation to other forms in its industry can be certified as a small business by the Smaller War Plants Corp. with the approval of the Surplus Property Administrator.

Q. Are there any limits on the amount of property a veteran may buy?

A. Yes. The Smaller War Plants Corp., working with the disposal agencies and with the approval of the administrator, may establish minimum and maximum limits as to the value and quantity of property which may be purchased on a priority by any veteran. After exercising his priority he may nevertheless buy more, but in doing so he has no preference for the excess and is on the same level as other citizens.

Q. What is the purpose of setting minimum and maximum limits?

A. Minimum limits are established because the cost of handling certain kinds of property in small quantities would be too high. Example: A disposal agency cannot break up a box of a thousand wrenches to sell a veteran one wrench. This would cost the government too much money. Maximum limits are imposed to insure fair distribution and to keep one man from "cornering" a market.

Scout Ideals Help Weed Fascism from Sardinia

Special to The Star

KENTON, Oct. 24 — Progressive educators in Italy, and especially in the Sardinia province of that nation, are turning to the Boy Scout and the Girl Scout movement to supply the youth of the nation the needed organization activity to take the place of the Fascist program instituted by Mussolini.

This statement was made by Dr. Walter L. Collins, Kenton school superintendent, who was Senior Education Officer for the Allied Military Government in Region 6, which included the island of Sardinia.

Dr. Collins' work in Sardinia had to do with the problem of revising the educational system there, and among the teacher group he found many who were willing to cooperate with him in deleting the Fascist teaching from the textbooks.

WILHELM KEITEL

(One of a series of 24 articles)

By The Associated Press

Hollywood could cast no one who looked more the arrogant Prussian militarist than Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, the Wehrmacht chief. Keitel, tall, erect and bemoustached, was second only to Hitler in army command. He became the fuehrer's deputy in 1938, when the German army was at its fiercest. The tight-lipped career soldier left his father's mountain farm at 18 to enlist as a private . . . commanded an artillery company in World War I . . . taught tactics at a military school . . . quietly but quickly climbed the ranks . . . made lieutenant-colonel in 1935 . . . detested politics and hid from the Party limelight . . . a shrewd planner . . . master mind of the blitzkrieg . . . stood silently at Hitler's side during triumphant entries into captured countries . . . a conscientious family man and voracious reader . . . member of the supreme Secret Cabinet . . . told his wife, "Some day I shall have to learn English" . . . quibbled over detutils at the surrender ceremony . . . finally became a model prisoner.

NEW YORK AWAITING NAVY DAY SPECTACLE

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Plans for the most spectacular Navy day in New York City's history—to include a presidential review of 50 warships and 1,200 Navy planes—took shape today.

President Truman will arrive early Saturday and will commission the giant aircraft carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt as his first official Navy day act.

The President will tour miles of city streets and attend a Navy day celebration in Central park. Some 2,000 Bluejackets, Marines, Waves and Coastguardsmen will escort him.

He will board the battleship Missouri for luncheon with Admiral Jonas H. Ingram, commander in chief of the Atlantic fleet. At 3:30 p. m. (EST), he will board the destroyer Renshaw, veteran of almost two years fighting in the Pacific.

While 1,200 Navy fighter and bomber planes roar overhead for two hours, the presidential destroyer will steam past the mighty armada lined up in the Hudson river.

Y'S MEN'S CLUB VISITS TELEPHONE PLANT HERE

Group Sees Phone Equipment in Operation.

A tour of the Ohio Associated Telephone Co., conducted by Harry D. Zink, district plant superintendent, was made by members of the Y's Men's club last night. Operations on the switchboard, distribution of lines and automatic equipment were explained by Mr. Zink. Arrangements for the tour were made by William Kimbel.

It was decided to join with the Lions club in canvassing the Sixth ward in connection with the Jobs and Progress program.

At a dinner in the Y. M. C. A. building, which preceded, hostesses this week were Miss Margaret McDonald from St. Mary High school, Misses Janet Castanien and Peggy Dixon, both of Harding High school.

Guests were James Woods Jr., Lt. M. McGee and James Morrison. George Howser, a former member, recently discharged from service, attended.

MARION MAN NAMED ON STAFF OF SENATOR

Huffman Also Appoints Attorney as Secretary.

Albert J. Chaney of Washington, D. C., a former Marion resident, has been appointed on the staff of Senator James W. Huffman, recently-named Democratic senator from Ohio. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chaney of Bain avenue and recently returned from more than a year's service in the European theater.

The 32-year-old veteran sergeant of the 10th Armored Division's drive through Europe was the first appointment on Huffman's senatorial staff. He will handle state business with government agencies. He served for six years on the staff of former Senator Vic Donahey, father-in-law of Huffman, and two years on the staff of the late Senator Hiram Johnson (R-Calif.) He is expected here for a visit with his parents this week.

According to an Associated Press dispatch from Washington Senator Huffman named Paul Miller, an attorney with the federal trade commission for seven years, to serve as his secretary. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Miller of Uhrichsville. Earl E. Hart, secretary to former Senator Harold H. Burton, is returning to Cleveland to do Republican organization work, the dispatch stated.

Futile To Try To Keep Atom Bomb Secret, Says Spiritualist — It's Floating in Air

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25—A delegate at the National Spiritualist association's convention declared last night that no government could keep the secret of the atomic bomb.

"As long as humans hold the secret in their consciousness," asserted the Rev. William Elliott Hammond, a missionary, "it will be vibrating in the air and can be picked up."

Mr. Hammond, whose home is in Lily Dale, N. Y., also told the 200 convention delegates that at international spiritualist meetings prior to the war the Japanese delegation flooded the convention with scientific papers on telepathy which showed they had mastered "to a marvelous degree" the art of mental communication.

The delegates of the association also heard two mediums, the Rev. Martha Haupt of Newport, Ky., and Rev. Florence Becker of San Francisco, report the receipt of spirit messages.

The smiling mediums, wearing attractive evening dresses, talked rapidly as they stood on a platform in the crowded, well-lighted hall. Both said many spirits were "tugging at their sleeve" in eagerness to communicate with mortal loved ones.

The "tugging" was not apparent to the observer, however.

Reverend Becker said she had a message for a Fred Beaver of Douglas, Ariz. A man in the audience grinned, said he was Beaver, and then was told his former wife "Flo" said hello and added a greeting, the medium said, for Beaver's living wife, who also was attending the convention.

The medium, speaking as the spirit, said "There is no jealousy in me, for I am enhanced in God's way." The message said Fred should continue with determination in his project of "making a village."

Later Beaver, questioned by a reporter, said the medium had been correct in everything she had said, and explained he was subdividing his ranch into a town.

DRAFT WAS SURE TO GET THIS MARION CO. YOUTH

Receives Calls from Two Boards and No. 1 Gets Him.

One Marion youth made certain of being called into the Armed forces when he registered with two Marion draft boards, but he would have had to be twins to answer both calls, which came at approximately the same time, it was disclosed today.

When the registrations were being taken, the family lived in Marion and the young man registered with Board No. 1. Later they moved to a nearby community and he came back to register with Board 3 which serves the rural district. Neither of the offices knew of the double registration.

When the monthly call was sent out and selectees were to report today for their pre-induction physical, clerks at the Local Board 1 waited for the youth to show up. Not until the group from Board 3 put in their appearance did they locate the "missing" member. The difficulty was straightened out and he went to Columbus with the group from the Board No. 1 which carried his original registration.

Kiwanians at Carey Hear Marion Pastor

CAREY — The Carey Kiwanis club Monday evening heard Rev. Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church of Marion, speak on "War and Peace." Dr. Schaeffer received his degree from the University of Pennsylvania and has studied extensively in ancient history. He discussed human reactions to war and peace and he particularly referred to the prophet Amos in the Old Testament and pointed out "War Atrocities" during the time of Amos similar to those we have heard so much about, today.

Forced Drill Hit by Smith

Congressman Says Truman Plan Nothing More Than Compulsory Training.

President Truman in his address to the joint session of congress, Tuesday, Oct. 23, urged immediate enactment of "outright compulsory military training and nothing else," Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Marion told the house yesterday and "if the administration wants compulsory military training it ought to be willing, in the next election, to go before the people of the country and tell them frankly that it wants compulsory military training and let the voters decide the matter by amending the Constitution," a news report from Washington stated.

"Forcing every young man in the United States between the ages of 18 and 20 into a military camp for one year makes it a compulsory military program, regardless of what you label it."

Mr. Smith said the President's attempt to make the people believe that he was not asking for compulsory military training is just plain deception.

"Indeed, the President asked for a compulsory military training program and something more. He called for the complete regimentation of every youth in the 18 to 20 age group when he asked that those not physically fit for combat duty be trained in whatever war service they could perform. Surely the people ought to know by this time that regimentation itself is a part of the Administration's program."

"The Constitution specifically prohibits compulsory military training. The program proposed is opposed to American tradition. I still believe the principles of the Constitution to be correct that adequate defense for the United States can be provided by a regular Army, Navy and militia (National Guard) on a voluntary basis."

Harding Hopeful of First Win Over Ashland Tonight

Foe Has Unimpressive Record Against Mediocre Opposition; Injured Prexies Show Improvement.

Last night at the stadium the Harding Presidents went through a final rehearsal for tonight's game at Ashland. The session was especially short because of a steady rain. The boys found it particularly difficult to hold onto the ball and also had trouble in remaining on their feet.

The injuries are coming along rather well now, however, many of the boys will still not be ready for very much action for another week or so. Dave Lee and Dick Taylor are doing fine and both will be in there at the beginning of the game. An X-ray picture of Charles Cines ankle proved there were no broken bones, but he will be forced to ride the bench for tonight's fray. The Prexie passing attack will be hampered due to Jim Rea's sore leg.

Harding's chances appear brighter tonight as Ashland has a not too impressive record. In their last five contests, the A's have been able to score out one time. Another fact that may give Harding a slight edge is that the locals have encountered teams of better caliber than their hosts have thus far run up against. The game has been moved to 7:30 instead of 8 o'clock in an agreement between authorities of the two schools.

Harding's probable starting lineup will be Dick Holliday and either Bob Smith or Bud England at ends, Don Zeisler and Paul Daum at the tackle positions, Mario Nolfi and Earl Stroble, guards, and Dave Lee will be doing the centering. At quarterback will be Ralph Weber, Dick Taylor will start at lefthalf and Jim Coss at righthalf. Jerry Richie will continue at the fullback post for the Presidents.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 25 — Lt. Comdr. Bernie Masterson, coach of the St. Mary's Navy Pre-Flight school grid team, can outdo even Army in using the "two team" system. Bernie's team includes seven former pros which he uses against service clubs and a strictly amateur eleven that plays against college teams. The reason the amateurs trimmed UCLA the other night was that Frankie Albert, just in from North Carolina Pre-Flight, did 57 minutes of first class quarterbacking after only three days of practice. The Women's Professional Golf association, which called off its initial tourney this year because of untravelled travel, is dickering for dates for a 1946 Women's National Open in August.

Shorts and Shells

When Paul Richards, the lanky Tigers' catcher, performed at Muskogee, Okla., back in 1928, he was a utility infielder who threw so hard the first basemen complained he couldn't see the ball and, at times, served as an ambidextrous pitcher, but his best trick was to start from first base at a dead run backwards. Fans recall that the pitchers used to throw the ball away in bewilderment.

BARONS LOSE 7-2

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Oct. 25—The Cleveland Barons were convinced today that defense of the American Hockey league title was a king-sized task. The victoryless defending champions were smothered 7 to 2 last night by the undefeated Pittsburgh Hornets in a wild skirmish on Steel City ice. The Barons have lost two games and tied three.

PENN COACHES MOAN AS NAVY TILT NEARS

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25—With the Navy game only two days away, the University of Pennsylvania grid coaches came up with a different sob story today.

"No one will care what happens to us next week after Navy gets through with us," moaned Rae Crowther, Paul Riblett and Horace Hendrickson, the assistant coaches in charge of workouts during George Munger's absence. Munger, head coach, is ill.

"No one will be after us for tickets, no newspaper boys will be around for stories," the sad trio kidded. "We'll drop from seventh place nationally to around 59th."

This 30th meeting between the Midshipmen and the Quakers, both unbeaten and untied, is regarded by many as the No. 1 game in the country bringing together elevens that ranked No. 3 and No. 7 in this week's Associated Press poll.

Although the Middies have beaten the Red and Blue four straight years, Crowther, Riblett and Hendrickson probably had their fingers crossed. It has gotten around that George Savitsky star Penn tackle, declared before the season started "We'll beat Navy or Army, but I don't know which one."

WIDDOES SILENT ON LINEUP AS BUCKEYES DRILL FOR GOPHERS

Boys Shuffled in Practice; Fans Watch for Purdue Battle at Northwestern.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 25 — The Ohio State university Buckeyes today roll toward Minneapolis and, they hope, a grid victory over the University of Minnesota.

A win would bounce them back again into a high ranking place among the nation's football teams.

The squad arrives tomorrow and Coach Carroll Widdoes expressed hope his Bucks would get in a final drill there prior to meeting the Gophers before an estimated 56,000 fans Saturday.

Widdoes put his boys through a brisk 75-minute drill yesterday polishing up the Buck attack but he refused to disclose his starting lineup.

Left Halfback Paul Sarringhaus, still bothered by a lame shoulder, worked with the second string. Whether Right Halfback Dick Fisher will play Saturday still is undecided since his

"WRESTLES HERE TONIGHT"

Johnny LaRue, the tall Texan who appeared here about four years ago has returned from the job of showing the army boys how to get rough with the enemy and he will meet Steve Nemeff in one of the main events at the Marion Armory tonight. Steve last week won over Sgt. Billy Fox.

The other main event will see the return of Ace Freeman, popular Jewish grappler from the Bronx, meeting that arch villian, Red Dawson. Ace is one boy who won't stand for much rough work before he starts dishing it out, so the Marion fans are assured of two matches with plenty of action. Call 2745 after six for your best seats. Irish Rest Up for Lima Tilt

To Invade St. Rose Field Friday Night; Wintersteller's Condition Improves.

Marion St. Mary will travel to Lima Friday night to tangle with Lima St. Rose. The locals will be out to try to obtain their third victory of the season. Coach Wagner has been giving the boys a well deserved rest for the past few evenings. The Irish put up a hard fought battle against Galion last week even though they were defeated 13-0, and the rest will probably do more good than long, strenuous practices every night of the week.

One fact that may account for last week's loss is that Bob Wintersteller, sturdy fullback, was not feeling up to par. Coach Wagner did not learn of Wintersteller's condition until after the game. This week he tried to get Bob into condition for the coming game, but if he is not ready he will remain on the sidelines for the evening. Except for Wintersteller, the St. Mary squad should be in pretty fair condition by Friday.

After this contest the Irish have but one game remaining on their schedule. This tilt will be at Marysville in a league game on Nov. 2.

The Lima St. Rose contest will not have any bearing on St. Mary's standing in the Mid-State league.

Opening kickoff is scheduled for 8 p. m.

KENTON GRID QUEEN

KENTON, Oct. 25—The Kenton High school football team has chosen Miss Helen Oberlitner as their queen. She will preside over the ceremonies at the annual homecoming game Friday night. Kenton plays Celina.

EX-HARDING GRIDDER ON SERVICE ELEVEN

Marion's LeRoy Harvey Stars on Nebraska Army Team.

A former Harding High school athlete is making quite a name for himself with an Army football team in Nebraska. He is LeRoy Harvey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harvey of 655 Mary street.

Harvey played his last high school season with Harding in 1943, under Bill Williams and was on the N.C.O. title winning team. Many fans will probably remember him during those seasons. He was noted for his ability to pick up yardage for the Presidents when it was needed most. He was also very capable of converting extra points with his place kicks.

At the present time he is playing with the Kearney Army Red Raiders where his placekicking is proving to be of much value. LeRoy entered the Army in April of 1943.

leg injury has been healing slowly.

Widdoes reported the Buckeye center position might not be up to par Saturday since first string Jack Lininger and Steve O'Dea of the second team both suffered injuries in the Purdue game.

L. W. St. John, Ohio State's athletic director, yesterday denied a report the Western Conference might enter into an annual agreement with the Pacific coast to appear annually in the Rose Bowl.

"That has not been mentioned," he asserted.

Purdue at Evanston

Midwest football fans will have their eyes on Evanston, Ill., too where Purdue and Northwestern play.

Indiana still has something to say about the 1945 title, but the Hoosiers, with three conference wins, no losses and one tie, do not swing back into conference competition again until Nov. 10 when they tackle Minnesota.

Purdue, after its 35-13 triumph over Ohio State last week, meets a potentially dangerous Northwestern team in the fourth successive Big Ten engagement for the undefeated and untied Boilermakers.

The undefeated Minnesota Gophers (1-0) went through a long workout after which Coach Bernie Bierman took the players inside the fieldhouse for a chart study of Ohio State plays.

Other Teams Drill

Around other midwest camps: Halfbacks Bob Nussbaumer and Henry Fonde stood out yesterday as Michigan went through its last drill for its game with Illinois at Champaign....Coach Ray Eliot said two freshmen would start for Illinois against the Wolverines....Notre Dame's squad put new pep into preparations for the Iowa game, bolstered by the return of Fred Earley, halfback on the 1943 national championship Irish squad, who recently resigned from the Naval academy.... Iowa went through long defensive drills, with Quarterback Jerry Niles doing most of the passing.

Four Of 1944's All Americans Lead Again in Race for Honors

Bechtel, Fenimore, Davis and Blanchard Make Bids for National Grid Laurels Once More.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Oct. 25—Four of the football players who won first places on The Associated Press All America team a year ago are making determined bids for a return listing in December, a survey showed today.

Hubert Bechtel, rangy Texas university end; Bob Fenimore, Oklahoma A & M back; and pay-dirt twins, Glen Davis and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, all are back for another try in garnering the sport's highest honor. Primarily because of their own exploits, all are playing on elevens undefeated this year.

Of the seven other players honored at the close of the 1944 season, four are in the service, two are coaching and one, guard Bill Hackett of Ohio State, has been sidelined for injuries suffered in a traffic accident.

Midshipman Don Whitmire of the Navy, and Caleb (Tex) Warrington of Auburn, are the young coaches representing the Middies and the Plainsmen in the present campaign. Whitmire was tackle and Warrington the center on the 1944 team.

End Phil Tinsley of Georgia Tech, Tackle John Ferraro of Southern California, Guard Hamilton Nichols of Rice and Quarterback Leslie Horvath of Ohio State are the athletes who exchanged gridiron uniforms for service regalia.

Much of Texas' success in 1945 has been the result of Bechtel's play. Against Oklahoma on Oct. 13 he caught seven passes for 107 yards. One of the flips was a six-pointer.

Davis and Blanchard, teammates on the country's No. 1 team, have helped power Army to 13 straight triumphs. The two are tied for second in the eastern point-making with seven touchdowns each.

NEW B. F. GOODRICH TIRE THAT OUTWEARS PREWAR TIRES

THIS isn't a guess. A new kind of tire has been developed, and tests show that it outwears prewar passenger car tires.

It is made of a new kind of synthetic rubber developed by B. F. Goodrich—different from the ordinary synthetic rubber in general use by the tire industry. It helps the new tire run cooler—wear better.

The new tire has had more than 2,000 laboratory tests. Taxicab fleets, state police departments and the B. F. Goodrich test fleet have run it 16,600,000 test miles. Not only does it give longer tread wear than prewar tires, but it has more resistance to bruising or damage from accident.

A new, slightly different shaped tread—we call it the "road level" tread—is another feature that means longer wear. Engineers had wished for years to make a tread just slightly flatter. But that more desirable shape always set up strains in the tire body, or "carcass," as it is called. B. F. Goodrich developed an entirely new and stronger cotton cord, designed it into a 35% stronger carcass that stands all these strains and permits the use of the new flatter, longer-wearing tread.

The tread design is new. It is made up of hundreds of skid-resisting curves for quicker stops, surer starts—safer driving.

In a few weeks these new tires will begin to be produced in large volume, but supplies may be limited for quite a while. We have placed our order, and hope to have our shipment shortly. Watch for our announcement. And in the meantime, take good care of the tires you have—make them last until you can replace them with these new, better B. F. Goodrich Silvertowns.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

I DID not need to ask Georges what was Mary's parting advice to him, even if I had had the inclination for so grave a breach of good breeding.

For, thanks to the imperfectly closed door through which Dicky and I had been involuntary auditors to that dramatic farewell scene, we had heard the sound slap which Mary had given him when he sought to kiss her, and also her airy advice to "make a big play for Olina."

That he had done this, and successfully, was evident, and I found myself glad that he was out of Mary's life forever, and that he had given happiness to Olina. However, while I also was irritated by the cockiness and ease with which he had swung from one girl to the other.

"And the other message?" I asked, trying to keep all emotional reaction out of my voice.

Georges shot a quick look at me, and I guessed that he was piqued at my lack of curiosity.

"It's only this," he said. "Tell her that no matter what I have done in carrying out her advice I mean every word I said to her, before we parted."

Yes, I'll tell her that," I said sedately, although every impish instinct in me was hooting. Or you thought you did while you were telling her. "Is that all?"

Mischievous Smile

His smile flashed mischievously at me.

"Yes, that is all, stony-hearted Aunt Madge," he said, "and you may now take me down to your father. I haven't exceeded the time limit too much, I hope."

Involuntarily I smiles back at him. It is very easy to smile at Georges when he turns on his charm, and besides, I always had within me the knowledge we all possessed, that he was going on a mission with less than a "fifty-fifty" chance of ever coming back from it.

"No, we are not too late," I said. "Shall we go down now?"

"As you will," he said, and he led the way to the elevator which, a minute later, whisked us down to my own floor.

One Thing More

"There is one thing more," he said, when we were walking along toward my apartment door.

"Yes?" I questioned, and was astonished to see a flush of embarrassment spread over his face.

"It's just something you can do for me," he stammered.

"You know, I fancy," I said truthfully, "that I will do anything in my power to aid you."

"I know that," he said, "but this—is—something I do not like to ask."

"Do you mind if I make a guess?" I told him, smiling.

"Why no, of course not," he said, but his eyes were filled with incredulous astonishment.

"You would like to make sure that Olina does not learn anything of your farewell visit to Mary, or of your keeping this photograph?" I suggested.

His face was brick-red now, and I am afraid I meanly enjoyed his confusion, for he is always so perfectly poised and sure of himself, as well as of all feminine admiration in his orbit.

Pulled Himself Together

"Why—how did you guess?" he began, then pulled himself together, and gave me a direct, manly answer.

"Yes, that is what I wish," he said.

"Then don't give it another thought," I told him, smiling. "Mary and I will lie like gentlewomen, if we ever have to. But I think there never will be a reference to either the interview or the photograph."

He gave a sigh of relief that appeared to come from the soles of his shoes.

"You don't know how that relieves my mind," he said, as I sounded the knocker of my apartment. "I can face anything now."

YOUR HEALTH

By SMITH BURDERSEN, M. D.

Glandular Disorder

When a fat person is suddenly seized with an attack of severe pain in the upper part of the abdomen, has no fever, but vomits and develops shock or collapse, it is possible that the condition known as acute pancreatitis is present. This is a disorder in which there is inflammation of the pancreas, the gland that supplies the body with insulin needed so that the body can use sugars.

In addition to these symptoms there may be severe pain in the left upper part of the abdomen when it is touched and there is also swelling of the abdomen.

In acute pancreatitis there may be edema or swelling of the tissues of the pancreas, due to a collection of fluid in them, together with inflammation. This type of disturbance may gradually subside.

In other instances, the trouble may be due to what is called hemorrhagic necrosis, that is death of the tissues in the pancreas, together with hemorrhage into them and, in such instances, prompt operation is necessary. Hence, when acute pancreatitis occurs it is necessary to know which of the two types is present so that proper treatment may be carried out.

According to Doctor John Morton of Rochester, New York, this distinguishing one condition from the other may be accomplished by the study of a certain substance found in the blood and called amylase. Amylase is an enzyme or substance which breaks up starches and it is possible to measure the amount of amylase present by certain chemical tests.

In patients with edema of the pancreas the amylase in the blood rises rapidly to a high level and then falls. In case of necrosis the amylase level may not be as high but is likely to remain elevated for a long time. The blood amylase normally is between 80 and 200. Too much amylase indicates acute pancreatitis.

A moderate amount may mean that an ulcer of the stomach or intestine has broken into the pancreas. If there is too little amylase it is probable that the symptoms are due to some cause other than pancreatitis. Conditions which may be confused with pancreatitis are heart disorders, peritonitis or inflammation of the lining membrane of the abdomen, severe gallbladder disease and blocking of the intestines.

The treatment of acute pancreatitis will, of course, depend on the type of disorder present. Complete rest and the use of drugs to stimulate the patient and overcome the shock may be all that is necessary in the cases due to edema, but once it is decided that there is necrosis or death of the tissues, immediate operation may be advised.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A. S.: My little girl is two years old and is losing her hair in spots of two inches in diameter. What causes this condition?

Corregidor Heroes Surrender

which I still treasure and which some day will be suitably framed and passed on to my son. It read:

"During recent weeks we have been following with growing admiration the day-by-day accounts of your heroic stand against the mounting intensity of bombardment by enemy planes and heavy siege guns.

"In spite of all the handicaps of complete isolation, lack of food and ammunition you have given the world a shining example of patriotic fortitude and self-sacrifice.

"The American people ask no finer example of tenacity, resourcefulness, and steadfast courage. The calm determination of your personal leadership in a desperate situation sets a standard of duty for our soldiers throughout the world.

"In every camp and on every naval vessel soldiers, sailors and marines are inspired by the gallant struggle of their comrades in the Philippines. The workmen in our shipyards and munitions plants redouble their efforts because of your example.

"You and your devoted followers have become the living symbols of our war aims and the guarantee of victory.

FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

At daylight my orderly, Sgt. Hubert Carroli, brought some food and coffee to Moore's headquarters in the Tunnel. I could not eat. The Japs were on Denver Hill, their forward elements within 500 yards of the Tunnel's east entrance.

Platoon Wiped Out

Col Beecher ordered a reserve platoon of Marines out to the line, but they ran right into a severe artillery barrage and were wiped out in front of our eyes.

Still, our men held doggedly. But at 10 a. m., in the midst of an ear-splitting shelling, word came up from Col. Sam Howard, Marine commander, that the Japs were landing more tanks and moving them toward us.

I had to make up my mind....a mind then reeling with the task of trying to find ways and means of averting the inevitable. I went over our position in my mind: shaken troops, beach defenses literally pulverized, assault-boat barriers wrecked, concrete machine-gun nests reduced to powder, the great majority of seacoast guns as well as fire control instruments destroyed; 46 of the 48 beach-defense 75 mm. guns knocked out, communications gone, movement of troops all but impossible because of the continued shelling, new and uncontested landings....

Possible Slaughter Visioned

But it was the terror that is vested in a tank that was the deciding factor. I thought of the havoc that even one of these could wreak if it nosed into the Tunnel, where lay our helpless wounded and their brave nurses.

I walked up and down in the Tunnel, heavy with all these thoughts. And then my head came up and I entered my own headquarters. I called Gen. Moore and Brig. Gen. Lewis Beebe. I had come to a decision which I have never regretted.

"We can't hold out very much longer," I told the two haggard generals. "Maybe we could last through this day, but the end certainly must come tonight. It would be better to clear up the situation now, in daylight."

It was 10:15 a. m., on the black day of May 6, 1942.

Prepares for Surrender

I then ordered Gen. Beebe to get out a previously prepared surrender broadcast—prepared in the event I lost my life and could not be present when the broadcast eventually had to be made—and told him to insert therein that we would cease firing at noon. He and Gen. Moore agreed that I had taken the only step possible under the circumstances.

With a view to surrendering as few troops as possible, I then sent a radio to Maj. Gen. William F. Sharp Jr., commanding my Visayan-Mindanao force, and relieved him of further responsibility to me, but directed that he therewith place himself and his men under MacArthur's high command.

Then I ordered the men of Corregidor and the other fortified islands in the Bay to destroy all remaining weapons of greater than .45 caliber before noon, as well as all other military and naval stores, equipment and ships. Our only two modern large guns, the 12-inch rifles built primarily to combat warship attack from the sea, soon went up with a roar, then nozzles ripped by shells placed therein in reverse and then struck by emerging shells.

I did not know it at the time, but in the terror and confusion of the scene my order to destroy larger guns was misinterpreted by Col Howard's Marines. They began destroying their small arms, and thousands of others followed suit before we could stop them.

Surrender Message Broadcast

Promptly at 10:30 a. m. Gen. Beebe stepped to the microphone of our little radio station, which MacArthur had named "The Voice of Freedom". His voice was clear:

"Message for General Homma . . . Message for General Homma," he repeated, "or the present Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Japanese Forces on Luzon." This he also repeated, then added, with other repetitions:

"Anyone receiving this message please transmit it to the Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Japanese Forces on Luzon.

"For military reasons which General Wainwright considers sufficient, and to put a stop to further sacrifice of human life, the Commanding General will surrender to your Excellency today the four fortified islands at the entrance to Manila Bay together with all military and naval personnel and all existing stores and equipment.

"At 12 noon, local daylight saving time, May 6, 1942, a white flag will be displayed in a prominent position on Corregidor, at which time all firing from the Harbor Forts will cease unless a landing by Japanese troops in force is attempted without flags of truce, in which case they will be taken under fire.

"If all of your firing and aerial bombardment has ceased at 12 noon local time the Commanding General will send two staff officers by boat, flying a white flag, to the Cabcaben dock to meet a Japanese staff officer, whom the Commanding General requests that your Excellency have there, empowered to name the time and place for the Commanding General to meet your Excellency in order that he may make the formal surrender and to arrange all details.

"Upon the return of his staff officers the Commanding General will proceed by boat accompanied by some of his staff to such place as may be designated by your Excellency. The Commanding General's launch will fly a white flag and his party will consist of five or six persons. He requests that motor transportation meet his party at the landing point designated by you."

The surrender message was then broadcast in Japanese. We waited. The shelling continued without a let-up; the Jap line approaching the east end of the Tunnel inched forward in heavy fighting. At 11 a. m. I had Beebe repeat the surrender message, and again at 11:45, but the vigor of the Jap attack remained unchanged.

And during that period I composed my last messages to President Roosevelt and MacArthur. I could not go to face the Japs without saying goodbye to these true friends or surrender without some summation of my position. The message to the President read:

"With broken heart and head bowed in sadness but not in shame I report to your Excellency that today I must arrange terms for the surrender of the fortified islands of Manila Bay.

"With many guns and antiaircraft fire control equipment destroyed we are no longer able to prevent accurate bombardment from the air. With numerous batteries of heavy caliber emplaced on the shores of Bataan and Cavite the enemy now brings devastating crossfire to bear on us, outranging our remaining guns.

"Most of my batteries—seacoast, antiaircraft and field—have been put out of action by the enemy. I have ordered the others destroyed to prevent them from falling into enemy hands. In addition, we are now overwhelmingly assaulted by Japanese troops on Corregidor.

"There is a limit of human endurance and that limit has long since been past. Without prospect of relief I feel it is my duty to my country and to my gallant troops to end this useless effusion of blood and human sacrifice.

"If you agree, Mr. President, please say to the nation that my troops and I have accomplished all that is humanly possible and that we have upheld the best traditions of the United States and its Army.

"May God bless and preserve you and ugide you and the nation in the effort to ultimate victory.

"With profound regret and with continued pride in my gallant troops I go to meet the Japanese Commander. Goodbye, Mr. President."

The last message to MacArthur was almilar, with these exceptions:

"...I feel it is my duty to the nation and my troops to end this useless slaughter. There is apparently no relief in sight. American and Filipino troops have engaged and held the enemy for nearly five months.

"...We have done our full duty for you and for our country. We are sad but unashamed. I have fought for you to the best of my ability from Lingayen Gulf to Bataan to Corregidor, always hoping relief was on the way.

"...Goodbye, General, my regards to you and our comrades in Australia. May God strengthen your arm to insure ultimate success of the couse for which we have fought side by side."

Peron Charged with Coercion

Radical Leader Says Argentine Chief's Comeback Was "Staged."

By The Associated Press

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 25—A radical party spokesman charged today that police coerced workers to participation in the Oct. 17 demonstration which brought Col. Juan Peron back to power and claimed that the laboring masses support the Argentine strongman.

Carlos Cisneros, secretary of the radical party's national committee, said the mass appeal for Peron's return "was an exact reproduction of the first popular demonstrations by Fascism and the Falange."

Out Only Eight Days

Peron, long the power behind the scenes in Argentina's military government, resigned Oct. 9 at the demand of an army faction led by Gen. Eduardo Avalos, commander of the powerful Campo de Mayo garrison in Buenos Aires. He was placed under arrest. Eight days later Peron returned from prison and was cheered by a large crowd.

President Edelmiro Farrell announced the group's enthusiasm had made him decide not to hand over the government to the supreme court, as had been anticipated. Peron greeted his restoration to power with a pledge that he would dedicate his life to the cause of labor.

Cisneros said today preparations for the Plaza de Mayo meeting "had complete official aid, including trucks and other means of transport and even gifts of food for the demonstrators at the site of the meeting."

Charges "Stage Work"

"It was prepared by the federal police and the office of the labor secretary, which was converted into a vast propaganda machine on the Fascist model," Cisneros declared.

"Officials and police forced workers in factories and unions to leave their work and join the demonstration. They went so far as to tear up railroad tracks, open valves, release steam and make threats with arms."

The Radical party spokesman asserted proof exists that many of them were paid to attend.

Why We Should Fill the War Chest

TONIGHT workers' reports in the Marion County United War Chest drive will be heard in a meeting set to start at 6:30 and there are high hopes that the total will be raised to somewhere near the $90,000 goal. In the preceding report meeting, the second since solicitation started, the amount raised was less than half the county's quota, but since then campaign workers have been busy and there is reason to believe that there have been substantial results.

If the $90,000 total is not reached tonight, the solicitation will continue until the full amount is subscribed. That must be done, for Marion county cannot afford to fail in this campaign, one of the most important since the United War Chest was inaugurated several years ago. The war is over but the need for funds is fully as urgent as when the fighting was in progress, in some respects more urgent. It is especially imperative now that all welfare and other community agencies included in the War Chest budget be provided with funds ample for unimpaired service, for they must be in condition to function well during the first postwar year when servicemen and women are returning and are entitled to find the home community doing its full duty. Any breakdown in the work of community agencies during the coming months would indeed be a lamentable homecoming spectacle for those who have been away undergoing hardships in order that home institutions might be preserved.

At the same time agencies ministering to men and women still in service must be maintained with full effectiveness, and the National War Fund is provided for that purpose. Marion County's United War Chest includes a share for this service and certainly we should subscribe that share in full. If the $90,000 total is not subscribed, our National War Fund contribution will have to be reduced proportionately along with the amounts going to local agencies.

Furthermore, the very fact that the war is at an end should serve as an added stimulant and incentive for contributions to the War Chest. There is every reason why Marion county should fill the Chest to overflowing this year, not only to meet urgent needs but to express our thanks for Victory and Peace.

Aggressors Know Only One Force

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has pointed out in his message to congress on military training that national preparedness is not a denial of confidence in the United Nations organization. He might have gone further and explained that preparedness is not only imperative under the United Nations plan for putting down aggression with force, if necessary, but beyond that may be the means of preventing aggression.

Gen. Marshall, in his final report as chief of staff, remarked that in the past the United States could have been charged with inviting attacks by its failure to be ready to deal with them effectually the instant they were launched. It is apparent from the records, for instance, that German militarists in both World Wars assumed they could execute their plans without interference by the United States, because this nation was unprepared and probably could not get ready to fight in time to be of any consequence. The fact the Germans guessed wrong both times might not keep them from guessing wrong a third time, if they get the chance. Their counterparts in Japan were tempted to go to war on the same wrong assumption—that the United States could not change its potential strength into actual strength in time to stop their seizures of territory.

No one can say, of course, that if the United States were to be better prepared in the future that would-be aggressors thereby would be restrained and war would not occur. But that is only part of the proposition of preparedness, as submitted by its advocates. The remainder is concerned with the probability that a better prepared nation would be able to win its battles with less waste of life, time and treasure. For example, it may be that Japan has lost a war that almost gained it an empire with less proportionate cost to the Japanese than the cost to the United States of thwarting Japanese ambition. Unpreparedness has cost this nation so dear that one more experience could ruin it.

Aggressors know only one force. If nations that want peace are not prepared to defend themselves, they can expect more wars.

The notorious "beast of Belsen" says he didn't do anything wrong—just followed orders. The war crimes commission is on the verge of discovering no German ever was guilty of anything. It was always 79,999,000 other guys.

Fifty-two hours' of pay for 40 hours of toil is the latest. As it was in the beginning, is now, and ever shall be, the maxim applies. Many hands are looking for light work.

Having invented a force which can blow the planet apart, the least science can do is hurry development of that rocket to Mars, for a quick getaway.

We believe the archives will show man always has landed in a depression after each world upheaval. Except Noah, who grounded on a mountain.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

Meaning of French Elections.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—Mixed interpretations followed the French election in which de Gaulle won a victory for Socialism and democratic re-organization while the Communists won a plurality of the Assembly. The analyses are about as confused as if Communists were to win a plurality in our Congress against our Democrat and Republican combined majority, turned Socialist, if you can imagine this. No prognosticator could be sure of what would happen then. We would be forced to await developments.

Reserved pleasure nevertheless is noticeable here among those who know the French situation intimately. The popular Republican movement (141 Assembly seats) is largely representative of church sentiments in France and will never embrace Communism.

Word From Vatican

The Pope in addressing Italian women the day of the French election, rather urged them to the Democratic form of Socialism and spoke clearly against the totalitarian (dictator) Socialism which is Communism. He also advised Italian women to get into politics, no doubt appreciating their primary interest in the home and the reliance of their lives upon the finer non-political phases of life, which makes them less easy prey for Communistic capture.

The French Socialist party (142 seats), which won second place in the Assembly, has about the same ideology as the popular Republican movement, without the church. Its absorption of a group called "Union of Republican Democratic Socialists" shows about what it is.

These two parties, if combined, easily can run the government, with their joint total of 283 seats against the Communists' 152. In fact, if you count in the minor parties below these big three, who are likely to work with de Gaulle, a possible Democratic Socialist majority of about two to one can be found.

This prospect no doubt explains the excessive silence of the Communists since their "victory." Their French party operates about like ours, on wires from Moscow. Authorities here have not discovered that Moscow threw any gold into the campaign, although money has proved useful in French politics of the past.

Control French Labor

The Communists have control of the French labor leaders and may not have thought they needed to use money otherwise. Their Assembly plurality was gained exclusively from factory districts. But the farm districts being church, and the white collar classes largely Democratic Socialists, a clear majority of French interests seems assuredly fortified to meet the future Communist campaign to capture France.

The Communists, unquestionably, feel they are just beginning. They have increased their power from 47 seats they held before the war by three times now. They are in a position to harass and impede a coalition Socialist government with their usual pressure politics, strikes and such action, in anticipation of the day when they will take over the democratic processes, abolish the Assembly and operate strictly totalitarian in accord with Moscow doctrine.

Against the hope, however, is erected the election co-result crushing the old radical Socialist party of corrupt politicians with whom they played ball on the inside.

Old Days In France

That party ruled the old France. It connived rather openly with Moscow on international affairs, made separate friendship treaties, and internally met the terms of the Communist-dominated labor leaders in all economic essentials, letting them run the country down with sit-down strikes, 30-hour weeks and similar steps destroying production to the point where they were no match for the Germans. The Communists only enhanced their nuisance power in France—if that. Actually they have no welcome out in the open. Their own secret internal destruction technique cannot work so well when they must assume public responsibility for their actions.

They have lost their cover-front, and somehow Communism never has stood as well on its own feet anywhere. When required to come into the open, a destructive technique cannot be defended. Therefore I suspect their political position in France today may prove less powerful than it was before the war.

My deduction naturally implies France is going Socialist. There are only two popular courses for European bankrupts. One is Democratic Socialism to handle the receivership; the other a dictatorship by either Fascist Socialism or Communist Socialism. In dictatorship liberty dies. In Democratic Socialism hope at least is not extinguished.

Of course Socialism does not have the inspiring, creative self-generating accelerations of our democratic capitalism in its make-up, but if it handles its receiverships well, it may aspire to return to profit incentive systems of free democratic capitalism.

A Churchill syllogism in Parliament expressed more succinctly the idea you may have read frequently in this spot in the past.

"The trouble of capitalism is it does not equally distribute its blessings. The trouble with Socialism is it does equally distribute its poverty."

Military Training and Peace

By Walter Lippmann

THE burden of proof is, quite clearly, upon those of us who favor compulsory military training in time of peace. It is asking a lot of a young man that he should interrupt his education, or put off earning his living, for one year.

The years between 18 and 20 are very precious years in a young man's life. He and his parents must be shown that this sacrifice is necessary, and then that the government has a program for the training which will not waste his time.

The supporters of the plan, on the other hand, have a right to assume that the opposition will consent if they can prove that it is necessary to the security and to the vital interests of the United States. That the proposal is new, that it is disagreeable, inconvenient, expensive, is not a sufficient objection if, without a citizenry trained to arms, we shall be much less able to prevent war, and much less sure of winning it if we do not prevent it.

There is no doubt at all, it seems to me, that—for the postwar period which may last a generation—military training will make it much more likely that we can prevent a third world war. It is, of course, by no means the only thing we need in order to prevent war but, without it, all our other means of preventing war will be ever so much less effective.

Way To Quick Action

Without military training there is, as Gen. Marshall and others have proved conclusively, no way in which our military power can be mobilized quickly. No aggressor, no disturber of the peace, has ever been deterred by potential power which it takes years to mobilize as actual power.

Every scheme of aggression is based on the idea that it will be successful before the victims realize what is going to happen, and are awake and can collect the force to resist. For no one in any world war, not Napoleon, not the kaiser, not Hitler, not the Japanese war lords, ever supposed he could defeat all the nations of the world, or even some of the great ones, in a conflict where all were fully prepared. The essence of any scheme of world conquest is that the aggressor who is fully prepared will be able to overwhelm the other nations quickly, because they are unprepared, and separately, because they are disunited.

No future aggressor will be deterred by remembering that eventually the United States can become a mighty military power. He will always expect to win before that miracle takes place, and in both of the world wars of this century the aggressors came very near to doing just that.

Dangerous Years Ahead

During the dangerous and difficult years which lie ahead of us—the years when the world must be pacified in order that there may eventually be peace—our own influence in the world will be directly related to our actual and immediate—not our potential and eventual—power.

In these dangerous years the paramount question will be whether or not a new combination is to be formed for the purpose of making still another attempt to overthrow the civilized order to which we belong, of which we are a principal defender.

It is the task of diplomacy, acting through the United Nations organization and through our alliances, to deal with such a new combination at the first sign that it is being formed. If we are well armed, diplomacy can do this without resorting to arms. If we are disarmed, our verbal protests will be disregarded, and in the end we shall have to fight.

This, I believe, is the fundamental and compelling reason why military training is, at this time, a necessary sacrifice in order to achieve peace. In any event, it is on this ground that we must debate the measure. We must invite those who are unconvinced or opposed to examine with us whether these propositions are true or false, namely:

THAT American military power cannot be quickly mobilized unless there is a reserve of young men who have already had basic military training.

THAT our influence in preventing another war will be measured by our actual, not our potential, military power.

THAT if we fail to prevent another war, only the capacity to develop our military power quickly can, with the modern offensive weapons, provide adequate defense against defeat.

If these three propositions are true, the case for military training is proved. I believe they are true, and that reasonable men will find that the evidence and logic which support them are conclusive.

I wish it were otherwise, and that we dared to think that we can return to the easy, carefree, happy-go-lucky days which were the birthright of all Americans in the days before the two world wars of this country. We cannot think that. We dare not be guided by our wishes. Those easy days are over.

Daily Bible Thought

Parents, teachers, idealists give us a fragment of their lives every day. Honest statesmen and patriots do, too. So do soldiers, sailors and marines. IT'S ALL THE SAME BALLOON

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Friday, Oct. 25, 1935.

Uncounted thousands of Ethiopian warriors, forming two armies, were about to engage two Italian armies in a great battle.

The widow of Dutch Schultz was question by police in Newark, N. J., after bullets cut down her husband in gang warfare.

Paul Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Millard Hunt of Delaware avenue was given the leading role in the annual musical comedy sponsored by Ohio Wesleyan university by Omicron Delta Kappa fraternity.

A team of horses stolen from the W. R. Roberts farm three miles east of Marion were found abandoned in a woods about a mile from the scene of the theft.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cox, 104, one of Ohio's oldest residents, died near Richwood. She never had ridden in an automobile.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Oct. 25, 1925.

Arthur D. Ballentine, 37, died at his home on Bellefontaine avenue.

Congressman Brooks Fletcher gave an address at Wesley M. E. church in which he said science was far ahead of statesmanship.

Bishop B. J. Chapman of Kansas City, Mo., opened a two weeks' revival campaign at the First Church of the Nazarene, taking as the theme of his first sermon, "The Christian Way of God."

Children of the primary department of Wesley M. E. church held a rally day service under the direction of the superintendent, Miss Carrie Bain.

Rev. U. S. Davis, pastor of Trinity Baptist church, gave a sermon in which he voiced approval of President Coolidge's contention "that the home and not the state is responsible for the upbringing of children."

49th State

The issue of bringing the District of Columbia "into the union" comes up every congressional session. It always is earnestly championed in Washington newspapers and by citizens' committees—but nothing ever comes of it.

One of the reasons is that few members of Congress care what happens to the District of Columbia. When the presiding officer of the House of Representatives or Senate announces "District Day," there is a rush for the exits.

Consequently, the news that Canada is setting up a capital district around Ottawa — 900 square miles against the District of Columbia's 70—and that its citizens will retain the right to vote caused a stir in Washington.

The Canadian proposal had been considered 30 years. A chief obstacle to its adoption was the fear of residents that they would be treated as residents of the District of Columbia are treated—as aliens, in plain words.

Several nations, including Mexico, have some sort of a capital district. The only one where residents do not have a vote is the District of Columbia. (Incidentally, since Georgetown was joined to Washington in 1895, the District is the same area as Washington.)

As you may know, Congress passes all the laws for the District and appoints three commissioners to run it. Two commissioners must be District residents and the third must be an officer of the Army engineers.

Legislation is now pending to give the District representation in Congress. It is known as the Sumners-Capper amendment.

French Debt Jumps

PARIS—The French national debt has jumped from $8,920,000,000 in 1939 to $38,000,000,000 in May of this year.

The New York Election

By Raymond Moley

THE New York City election campaign has brought to light another most interesting contradiction in the Roosevelt theories of politics. Mrs. Roosevelt has got solidly behind the Tammany-sponsored candidate for mayor with the statement, "This mayoralty campaign is really the opening gun in the congressional elections and the next national election."

According to Mrs. Roosevelt's 1945 philosophy, therefore, local politics is a legitimate part of national politics. The mayor of Mattepoo can always claim votes on the ground that a vote for him is a vote for American foreign policy and that to repudiate him is to shake the prestige of General MacArthur in Asia.

But Mrs. Roosevelt's late husband, in 1941, thought otherwise. He said: "The fact that the city's election has no relationship to national policies, but is confined to civic policies, is attested by the fact that the constitution of the state provides for the municipal election in off-years when neither a governor nor a president nor members of the house of representatives or senate of the United States are to be chosen."

With all due allowance for a difference in political theory between the late President and his wife, this gap between 1941 and 1945 is challenging. For on as important a political decision as is involved in giving or withholding Presidential support in municipal elections, there would hardly have been public disagreement between the President and the First Lady.

The change in Roosevelt theory can be accounted for only on the ground that the Hon. Fiorello La Guardia was running in 1941 and is not running in 1945. The late president always had an affinity for the erratic and casual political allegiances of Mr. La Guardia. And usually, when the little mayor was involved, the president turned against even such important lieutenants as James A. Farley and Edward J. Flynn. But with Mr. La Guardia out, the mayoralty of New York becomes a matter of national importance.

The current campaign for mayor of New York is a strange one. When the mayor decided not to run, the Republican party, at the suggestion of Governor Dewey, nominated a Democrat, Judge Jonah J. Goldstein. The right wing of the labor group, now called the Liberal party, indorsed him. The left wing of labor, the American Labor party, trailed along with the Democratic nominee, William O'Dwyer, formerly district attorney in Kings county.

At this point, the unpredictable Mr. La Guardia decided that he would put another candidate in the field. His choice was Newbold Morris, president of the Council. About all that seems to qualify Mr. Morris is the La Guardia support. Yet it is enough to make certain the election of Mr. O'Dwyer, supported by Tammany.

Reformers Fail To Agree

So, the trait so common among reformers appears again—the lack of ability to agree.

The campaign is not exciting. Countless Republicans failed to register. The scarlet past of Tammany is all but forgotten, since the Tiger has been out of power for 12 years. Charges by Judge Goldstein of Tammany connections with the underworld produce no interest.

The most conservative guesses are that Mr. O'Dwyer will get more votes than both of his opponents.

Mr. LaGuardia, despite his occasional violent outbursts and capricious political allegiances, has given the city a good administration. But good government is something for which New York City has only a limited and very dainty taste. Mr. O'Dwyer seems to be one of New York Democracy's better products. And he will, if history repeats itself, keep out the worst practices of pre-La Guardia days for some time. But again, if history repeats itself, the old order will ultimately come back. And then there will be reform again, and after reform, the return of organized politics. So runs the world in New York.

Fast Travelers

By The Associated Press

GILEAD, Me.—For your information, a moose can push itself along at 42 miles an hour in high gear and a medium-sized bear can hit 35 miles an hour.

Game Warden Supervisor Caleb Scribner relates a motorist's story that a moose stepped into the road just ahead of him and stayed there for a mile and a half while the speedometer fluttered around 42.

Roy Gray, a rural mail carrier, chased a middling sized bear at 35 miles an hour until Bruin found the pace too hot and scrambled up a tree.

The Once Over

The Navy Presents

OH, take a back seat, showmen,
Or beat it to the hills.
You boys who live on drama
And specialize in thrills!
No spectacle on Broadway,
No works of yours unfold
The touch, the punch, the glamour
That now our seaports hold.

II

"Colossal!"..."Five-Star Special!"
"Astounding Drama Scores!"
These terms now have one meaning—
A fleet home from the wars!
And "Actors Wow the Public"
This week can only be
A reference to vessels
Back from a crimson sea.

III

"The Big E"—what a standout
Among performers great!
Four years in constant action—
And not for one cue late!
The Enterprise, in battle
From this war's starting gun...
Midway to Iwo Jima—
Kid, did she have a run!

IV

The "kamis" blew her cockeyed—
She got her bumps galore,
But took no final curtain
And came right back for more;
From Truk to Okinawa
And on to Tokyo...
Say, if you want a trouper,
This lady ought to do!

V

An all-star cast you're seeking—
Well, get this great support;
The Boise, Hellcat Lady,
A most amazing sort!
The "Solomons' Bambino"—
The "Babe of Esperance,"
Who sank six ships (tho' losing
Her girdle, shirt and pants).

VI

This terror, hit so often,
They gave her up as dead
(Until the word came flashing
She's been re-booked instead!)
This ship so torn and wounded
Her act seemed surely done—
Who stretched herself and bellowed,
"The show, kid, must go on!"

VII

You still want one more lady
Who struts her stuff with class?
Well, here's a grand old-timer—
The New York! Ageless lass!
Say, talk of Sarah Bernhardt
And all her farewell stuff—
This actress runs forever,
And just asks, "Make it tough!"

L'ENVOI.

Now thirty-one and trouping,
She's looking for a hit:
A show with all star actors,
And, baby, this is it!
The Hudson is the setting—
Behold the curtain rise!...
Scram, all you super showmen—
This cuts you down to size!

"I have the greatest interest in the outcome of this trial."—Walter Funk, indicted Nazi chieftain.

The understatement of 1945.

Nazi Germany

Behold a nation
Plod and trudge,
From "We conquer all!"
To "Good morning, judge!"

The best way to panic any Jap or Nazi these days is to open a sentence with the word, "We can give you a trial...."

A man's ideas about war must change tremendously when the tune changes from "Forward, oh superdooper!" to "The prisoner will take the stand!"

Naval slogan for a fleet invading big city traffic: "Damn the taxicabs, full speed ahead!"

Elmer Twitchell has sent a note to the judges at the war criminals' trial, urging that court be opened daily with "In Der Fuehrer's Face" by male voices.

It looks as if the Allied Tribunal has charged the Nazis with everything except impersonating human beings and producing an illegal animal act.

We can't think of Francis J. Biddle as judge at the war criminals trials without feeling that he will insist on all the principals being carried out of court.

There were 800 pages in the indictment of the Nazi superdoopers. They threw the book at them and the book was not Mein Kampf.

Refittings

By Truman Twill

The postwar battle of the bulge is reaching its climax. But this time, fortunately, there is no casualty list, just scattered cases of minor shock.

The heroes who exchanged their zoot suits for uniforms wondered what would happen when they came home—and millions of them now know.

So do their wives, sweethearts, their sisters, brothers, cousins, uncles and aunts. The clothes preserved in moth balls until Johnny came home survived intact, but what happened to its owner shouldn't happen to Republicans in Georgia.

The main trouble lies in the torso. Military training brought about some strategic shifts there.

What formerly had the appearance of a muskmelon being smuggled under the belt of the pants was transformed into something that now has the appearance of a pair of shoulder pads worn under the coat.

The circumference of the pants now is two inches too large for what goes inside them, whereas the width of the shoulders of the coat is several inches too narrow for what goes into them.

The prewar shirt is an inch too short in the sleeves and half an inch too skimpy in the neck band. There is plenty of room around the middle just as there is plenty around the middle of the coat.

The prewar shoes are too short in the toes, too narrow in the instep and too snug on the heels. The only thing that really fits any more is the prewar hat, but smile when you mention that.

A lot of men turned sour on their prewar hats while they were away. Not that they think those fold-up garrison caps ever did anything for their masculine appeal, but the things were handier to handle off the head than anything they ever wore as civilians.

When you see a youngish citizen whose coat is too tight across the shoulders and too loose around the middle holding up his pants with one hand, mincing along as if his dogs were killing him, gasping for air and peering out sourly from beneath the brim of a hat he obviously resents, that's Johnny. He's home—and on his way to the store to have some refittings before he settles down permanently to the grind of being a civilian.

Joseph Swift was the first graduate of West Point.

Ohio VFW Post Named for Father and Son

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Oct. 25—In an action believed to be without precedent, a post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here has been named after a father who erroneously was reported killed in action during World War I and his flier-son who fell during the recent conflict.

The new post is known as the George J. Mattan Sr.-George J. Mattan Jr. Post, VFW. The elder Mattan died four years ago, leaving among his "souvenirs" a war department notification of his death, a death certificate and a letter of condolence to his "widow" signed by Warren G. Harding, then president.

Mattan Jr., 25, died while on a mission over Holland, July 17, 1943.

Will Visit Mission

er in the church basement will be followed by a pilgrimage to the Old Mission church where the first Methodist missionary in the western hemisphere, John Stewart, began his work among the Wyandot Indians. Features of the afternoon will be short talks by Rev. Williamson and Rev. Dunham, and special music by the choir directed by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Stoker, and by the organist, Miss Adda Irwin.

The climax, and the closing service of the celebration, will be the presentation, Sunday evening, of a historical pageant depicting important events in the life of the church. The scenes to be portrayed by members of the congregation were written by Attorney A. K. Hall, Rev. Dibble and Rev. John Altman, a retired minister, now a member of the local church, assisted by Harry E. Kinley, Wyandot county historian, and a special committee.

Although not officially organized until 1845 when the Rev. Leonard Hill was sent to Upper Sandusky and appointed a board of trustees who began the construction of a frame building where the present stone structure stands, the history of the Methodist congregation here dates back to 1818 when the mulatto missionary, John Stewart, journeyed over the Ohio territory's forest trails from Marietta to Upper Sandusky to live and work among the Wyandots who inhabited the plains along the upper reaches of the Sandusky river.

Now National Shrine

A few years later he was followed into this field by the Rev. James B. Finley and in 1824 Christian Indians converted by these early missionaries joined with white settlers to build the "Old Mission" church, which is now a national shrine of Methodism and is visited by hundreds of pilgrims and tourists annually. The church yard, now surrounded by Old Mission cemetery, contains the graves of the missionary Stewart and of a number of his Indian converts.

Before the Wyandots left in 1843, when the government moved the tribes westward to reservations in Kansas and the western states, the pioneers were holding regular services in English along with those conducted in the tongue of the Redman.

The building of planks erected in 1845 served until 1858 when it was replaced with a two story brick church and parsonage at a cost of about $5,000.

Started in 1890

The brick church was torn down and the building of the church now in use started in 1890 during the pastorate of Rev. J. C. Shaw. The new house of worship was completed the next year at a cost of $20,000. Ten years previously the Old Mission church had been rebuilt by the Methodist conference through the efforts of the Rev. N. B. C. Love, who was then the pastor of the local congregation.

When the church was organized, in 1845, it was known as the First Methodist (Episcopal) church of Upper Sandusky, but in 1918 in ceremonies marking the 100th anniversary of the Old Mission, it was renamed and rededicated as the John Stewart Methodist church. The membership has "lived up" to the origin and rededication by being missionary minded and contributing generously to the mission work of the church at large.

Another red-letter day in the church history was in 1909 when one of the members, Grace C. Davis, a teacher and Christian worker, left here for Lucknow, India. She has served as a missionary and teacher there, and is now the principal of the Isabelle Thoburn College in Lucknow. In 1936, while on a furlough-visit home, Miss Davis was made a life member of the Missionary Society of the John Stewart church.

Parsonage Was Gift

The parsonage, located near the church at 110 South Seventh street, was bequeathed to the church in 1935 by the late Alice Maffet, a lifetime resident of Upper Sandusky, and member of the congregation.

An active member and worker who has seen a major portion of the growth of the church from the 42 listed in 1845 to the 570 enrolled today, is Miss Myrta Moody, for 50 years a teacher and superintendent in the Primary Department. Since her "retirement" two years ago she has served as a substitute teacher.

The guest speaker for Wednesday night, Dr. Rupp, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Rupp of Upper Sandusky. He attended Upper Sandusky High school, Carnegie Institute of Technology, Ohio Wesleyan University where he received his bachelor's and master's degrees, the University of Berlin, Boston University and Sacred Theology and Oxford University.

He was an Assistant Professor at Miami University, Assistant Minister of Central Congregational church in Boston, pastor of Victory Methodist church in Dayton, and pastor of William Street Methodist church in Delaware.

Appointed in 1928 as professor of Art and History of Preaching in Boston University School of Theology and Andover Newton Theological school, he later resigned this position to become the minister of the First Congregational church at Stoneham, Mass.

Pastor of the Central church of Chicago for the past several years, he is widely known as a speaker and writer.
